

EXERCICE N°1 : « AN IMPORTANT TREE »

We live with the trees since our childhood : in the cities, in the countryside, in the forest. In everyplace or almost, the trees are present but we often don't pay attention to them.

Nevertheless, there is usually a tree, or a place of trees, which is really important for each of us : there is a special link that connects us to this tree, or to this place planted with trees.

The reason why this link exists can be very different, related to the personality of the tree or to an event that can be very personal.

This exercise asks you to write a short text that evokes this tree or this place planted with trees, which is (or has been) very important in your life.

You have to evoke a sensitive relationship, to recall emotions linked to that tree or group of trees. This experience may be recent or old. The emotion can be directly related to the tree itself, to its appearance, or to what it represents symbolically, or to some practices, uses, or to a particular event.

The text of about 3000 signs will make the portrait of this tree (or group of trees) ; it will also describe the place (in order to allow the reader to imagine it), it will specify the time and gives the explanation of its importance for you.

The text can be illustrated (drawings and/or photos). Do not forget to mention the source / author of the illustrations.
